Your project

What do we mean by 'project'? For us, a project is something that has:

- A start and end date
- Clear things you want to achieve in that time
- Ways for people to experience or take part in creativity or culture (either as part of the project or in the future)

This section of the application form helps us to understand what you want to do.

It allows you to think about how your project could help to bring creativity and culture to people in England.

When is your project going to happen?

Tell us the start and end dates for your project.

Remember:

- To allow enough time to deliver all the stages of your project
- The dates you give us here should cover the whole project period you're applying for
- We need eight weeks to process applications for £30,000 and under, your start date must be more than eight weeks from the date you submit your application
- To allow enough time for us to make a payment before your start date, if your application is funded

Project start date: 01/09/2024

Project end date: 30/05/2026

Responding to any Time limited priorities

Your project is responding to the following Time limited priority:

Selected priority: - Not applying against any Time Limited Priority -

At a glance

In your own words, give a short, clear overview of your project:

Up to 500 characters

- Be as clear as you can about what you want to do using Project Grants funding
- It's better if this is written as a full paragraph
- It will be available to the public on our website if your application is funded.

Rebecca Althaus collaborates with Rosie Hadden, Mez Packer, The Hypatia Trust, Grammarsof, Literature Works & Writing West Midlands; curating & delivering: 12 fully funded writing residencies at the Alt Haus writer's cabin, 1:1 writing mentorship, hyperlocal, grief & death focused creative writing groups, & pedagogical resources for creative writing as a cultural transformation tool; aiding the evolution & redefinition of grief culture in the UK.

If you had to explain the focus of your project to someone, what single words or short phrase would you use?

Up to 100 characters

- You can be as broad or as specific as you like; it's your project
- You might think about this as your project's 'key words' or 'tags'
- Use a maximum of 5 key words or short phrases
- We won't use this response when deciding which applications to fund. It's so we can learn from how you see your project.
- Examples could be: singing; photography; digital work in libraries; South Asian dance; participatory arts; children's theatre; interactive gaming; dynamic collections work; changing business models; environmental theme; writing with older people; etc

Creative writing; fully-funded residencies; 1:1 mentoring; women's groups; death & grief culture

Our Strategy, Let's Create

Let's Create explains how we want our funding to make a difference. It includes three Outcomes. These Outcomes are what we want to achieve through the projects we fund, so together we can make a difference.

You don't need to read our Strategy to make an application for £30,000 and under.

Telling us what your project focuses on helps us to decide which of the Outcomes your project will make a difference towards.

What does your project mainly focus on?

- this gives us a good sense of how you see your project
- you need to select only one option
- your project may include activity to do with more than one option; we want to know where you feel the main focus is
- the descriptions below are a guide to help you decide
- don't worry if you're not sure – we'll check we agree with the option you've selected when we look at your application

My project is about the public taking part

My project is about the public taking part in creative activity, either during the project or in the future.

- This means a project that gives the public the opportunity to take an active part in creative activity.
- An active part might be making, learning or contributing to creating something.
- The public includes anyone who isn't working professionally in the cultural sector, and covers all ages from early years to older people.
- Examples could be delivering workshops to the public, the public participating in an event or teaching the public..
- People might be trying something for the first time, or developing their skills and experience.
- It could be that you're developing workshop content that you'll deliver to the public in the future.
- This isn't about the public attending an event as an audience member or visitor to an exhibition.

This matches our Outcome 1: Creative People

My project is about making a difference to a place or community

My project is about making a difference to a place or community, either during the project or in the future.

- This means working in a way that is focused on a specific place or community.
- Often working in a place will mean working with other partners in that place to shape and deliver a project.
- Projects could involve making, showing or performing work that responds to what a particular community is interested in.
- Examples could include a locally developed cultural festival, engaging the community in research and development for a new programme, work or event, or touring an exhibition with support from local partners.
- Projects might connect to or help to deliver existing local strategies or support local partnerships.
- It could also mean touring work into places where there is local demand. .

This matches our Outcome 2: Cultural Communities

My project is about developing professional creative or cultural practice

My project is about developing professional creative or cultural practice, either during the project or in the future.

- Developing new skills to help those at the beginning of their careers or to help others sustain careers

As writer, facilitator, curator, & venue owner, Rebecca Althaus improves Cornwall/national creative writers' dev opps for (cis/trans) women thru 'Writers in Cornwall' (WiC):

- hosting 12 fully funded writing residencies across 2 years; combatting geographic, economic & social barriers that currently prevent participation in professional creative/literary opps; starting & sustaining creative careers
- giving voice to women amidst the UK's death-averse, grief-illiterate culture; through a hyperlocal 'Grief & Creative Writing' prgrmmme (G&CW)
- delivering 1:1 writing mentorship to 2 select G&CW participants
- capturing the outcomes of this proof of concept prgrmmme; developing pedagogical resources for writers & facilitators.

The Alt Haus writer's cabin is a purpose-built venue; situated in rural Penwith Moor, Cornwall. Curated & coordinated with The Hypatia Trust (2 G&CW participants), The Grammarow (2 Scottish poets), & RDA Literature Works / Writing West Midlands (in collab, 8 ppl through their writers' dev progs), the cabin will offer:

- 12 fully funded writer's residencies for underserved/marginalised/lower socio-economic status individuals
- a £250 - £400 travel bursary + free living x 1 wk
- time & space alone for writers to focus on their creative careers/work, uninterrupted.

In partnership with The Hypatia Trust, & Rosie Hadden, a G&CW programme will engage 2 local cohorts (10 women each) to journey through 3 months of grief related writing processes. G&CW participants will:

- be held by 2 writers/facilitators: Rebecca & Rosie
- engage in a mix of group & individual writing tasks; refining a personal writing style & learning new technical approaches
- express their life experiences through writing without a focus on quality or achievement; deconstructing elitist academic ideas of what it is to be a writer & broadening the definitions of 'writer'
- connect with other grieving women; raising the creative & cultural quality of hyper/local networks
- have a safe space to share their work (if they so wish); being witnessed in their writing/personal stories
- engage in a prgrmmme culmination legacy event for friends & family; with readings, an exhibition of their work & published pamphlet of writing.

2 selected women from the G&CW cohorts will receive a residency + 6 months 1:1 mentorship with Rebecca & Mez Packer; to develop technically, boosting their regional connectivity & relevance as writers, with additional guidance around publishing avenues.

Rebecca will engage in mentorship with Mimi Khalvati & Katrina Naomi, supporting her to:

- refine her craft as a facilitator for writers; developing new skills to help early career artists start & sustain careers
- develop pedagogical documents to be distributed to writers' networks via project partners; on using creative writing/facilitation as a tool for creative & cultural transformation; with a particular focus on the UK's grief culture, & access pathways for marginalised writers.

What's led you or your organisation to do this project now?

Up to 1500 characters

- What ideas or experiences have led you or your organisation to this point?
- Is this project helping you or your organisation learn or try new things?
- If you've done something similar before, how is this different?
- You can write this in full paragraphs or in bullet points

As a teen in the 1980's, Rebecca read & wrote poetry but lacked the confidence/family background/community to pursue a creative career. In 2017 her partner died suddenly; Rebecca returned to reading & writing about grief & death as a way to support her personal bereavement process.

She has since:

- completed an MA in Poetry with distinction (2020)
- written her first memoir, 'Burying Your Body'; about the diagnosis & loss of her partner
- had her work highly commended in The Poetry Business International Book & Pamphlet comp
- had 2 poetry films screened at the annual Women in Word festival.

Rebecca now:

- focuses on her own creative dev; engaged in a PhD, & writing a second memoir, 'Love in the Deadly Silence'
- holds creative writing spaces for women, paired with her decade+ of therapeutic facilitation experience; with a specific focus on grief, death, & traversing difficult times
- runs the Alt Haus writers' cabin.

In October 2023, Rebecca & Rosie partnered with The Hypatia Trust to lead a sold out event; 'Poetry & Conversations About Death & Grief.' The appetite for this work gave rise to a longer-form iteration; this project's 3 month G&CW programme.

In 2021 Rebecca connected with The Grammarsof project (GP); an annual writing residency, bringing Scottish poets & poetry to Cornwall in the footsteps of WS Graham. In 2022/23, Rebecca availed the Alt Haus cabin to GP's writers. The success of this arrangement continues with GP, & additional partners.

How will you know if you've achieved what you set out to do?

Up to 1500 characters

- Are there opportunities for learning and reflection during your project?
- How will you know what difference the project has made?
- What steps will you take to understand what people thought of the project?
- You can write this in full paragraphs or in bullet points

A stakeholders board will be created, formed of the WiC peers, partners, & participants; with regular meetings throughout the project to track milestones & assess the overall progress of the project.

A thorough evaluation process will be conducted, capturing the before/after effects of each process; through verbal & written feedback. WiC will review:

- residency recipients' experience of th Alt Haus, & the impact of their residency; comparing all 12 experiences at the end of the project to evaluate commonalities in feedback
- 1:1 mentoring experience vs expectations; & 3 month post-process check in, reflecting on long-term impact
- G&CW participants' relationship to creative writing, & death/grief; pre/post programme; & the impact their writing practise has had on each
- quality of content produced for the G&CW legacy event
- project partners' experience of working together, & # of them that sign on for future iterations.

Pedagogical docs will capture the insights of G&CW & residencies, distributed via project partners. They will support writing orgs/facilitators/individuals to better understand the cultural impact creative writing can have, esp re:

- equity models; how to increase accessibility to creative opps for writers
- how creative writing can support a person's bereavement process re the UK's wider grief culture.

THT will provide the space & marketing (via email/social media & direct word-of-mouth outreach) for the G&CW programme. 8 spaces have already been confirmed, & the project is confident in the final 12 being secured given prior sold out 'Poetry and Conversation About Death & Grief' workshop, facilitated by Rebecca & Rosie.

G&CW participants will invite friends & family to the culmination legacy event; keeping the nature of the sharing as intimate and personal as possible; conducive to the bereavement themes of the programme; with a grassroots approach to cultural transformation & social-prescription-like models.

1:1 mentoring will be delivered to 2 select individuals from the G&CW programme.

Pedagogical resources will be distributed via all project partners; widening & diversifying the impact of this intimate programme to reach new people, & spaces, & inform the further development for future iterations.

Inclusivity and Relevance

What steps are you taking to make your project inclusive and relevant?

Up to 3000 characters

Inclusivity

- How will you make sure the communities you want to reach are able to access your project, and feel included and welcomed?
- What things might stop people experiencing or accessing your project, and how will you address them?

Relevance

- How have you involved the people you want to reach in the design and planning of your project?
- What information or data do you have on the place or community your project involves? How have you used this to shape your project?

Writers in Cornwall (WiC) combats geographical & socio-economic barriers to participation, & challenges the elitist tropes embedded within the UK's writing ecology; de-siloing writers opps & engaging marginalised writers.

ALT HAUS RESIDENCIES will:

- dev a written policy with partners, outlining their selection criteria; ensuring target individuals are fairly afforded the space
- hold stakeholder meetings to assess that selected writers' are in alignment with project specs
- hold zoom calls with each residency recipient prior to their stay; establishing a sense of familiarity to support an easeful settling in process for them
- be fully funded for participants; offering travel bursaries for writers, & accommodation for 1 week
- serve UK writers to create work that represents marginalised demographics' life experiences; diversify the UK's writing ecology.

1:1 MENTORING will:

- be free of charge for 6 months of mentorship via 6 sessions
- meet mentees at the level they are at; initiating a bespoke dev process that suits their needs
- impart valuable info on writing techniques, & publishing pathways; informing writers of their future career choices.

The UK's grief culture is often neglected; lack of open dialogue perpetuates ongoing taboos around dying & death, despite how many people are directly impacted. The UK's biggest death & bereavement survey reveals that 18M people in the UK are uncomfortable talking about death.

G&CW GROUPS will:

- serve to dismantle societal taboos around grief culture in the UK; supporting women to write/speak about their lived experiences with death & grief; held in safe, professional spaces
- be highly subsidised; affording lower-socio-economic women to engage (statistics show that grief often leads to lower-income living)
- ensure accessibility for mothers; providing childcare at no extra charge. Statistics show that parents of CYP, most significantly women, suffer creative, cultural & social marginalisation due to lack of affordable childcare
- engage friends & family in legacy evenings/sharing processes; allowing for an intimate bridging between worlds & external contextualisation for participants
- hold legacy events free-of-charge.

Rosie Hadden is integral to G&CW; a poet, end of life doula, & arts facilitator with 40+ years of experience working in the Arts for Health field. She supports & works with groups & individuals using visual arts, writing & craft, for personal process, & has hosted death cafes & grief circles for 5+ years in Cornwall.

PEDAGOGICAL DOCS will multiply the impact & reach of this proof of concept prgrmme; supporting other creative writing institutions to access & apply new frameworks:

- evolving the UK writer's ecology to systemically support marginalised artists
- creative writing as a tool to aid the grief process & social/cultural transformation re death/grief.

Your planning

You've told us what you want to do and what you hope to achieve. We now need to understand how this will come together to be successfully delivered.

We need to know:

- Your project plan – what you're going to do and when
- Your plans for managing the project – you don't need to have managed a project before, but you need to show you've thought about what you'll do or who will support you
- Who you'll work with and how they'll contribute
- What your budget is and how you've worked it out, including paying everyone fairly
- How you will respond to challenges you might encounter

Project timeline

Project Start Date: 01/09/2024

Project End Date: 30/05/2026

You've told us the start and end date of your project. We need to know what will happen during your project. Creating a timeline shows the key tasks that your project is made up of.

We understand that plans can change over the life of a project, but we need to see that you have a plan in place to deliver your project.

To create the table, click the 'Add new item' icon on the left of the screen to add a project stage. To add more than one stage, use the 'Save and Add another' button.

The table at the bottom of the page will populate with the information you enter about the stages of your project.

Managing your project

What experience do you have of managing a project? I have managed projects like this before

Who will be working with you to deliver your project

For example this might be:

- A team of people (tell us who they are, and about their role and skills:...)
- A particular artist, practitioner or group (tell us: ...)
- A particular specialist(s) (tell us: ...)
- Other organisation(s) as collaborators, coproducers etc (tell us...)
- Other organisation(s) helping you to manage the project (tell us...)

How will they help you to deliver your project?

Up to 1500 characters

- What skills will they bring?
- If some people's involvement isn't confirmed yet, do you know what you'll do if they can't be involved?

Rebecca is supported through the project by 2 mentors. Mimi & Katrina will guide Rebecca in:

Budget: How much are you applying to us for?

We need to know how much money you are applying to us for.

We'll ask you to tell us how much money you'll have to spend on the project (the income) and what you will spend it on (the expenditure). We'll also ask you to think about any challenges for your project and explain how you will respond to these.

Whilst we understand that budgets can change over the life of a project, this information allows us to see how you've planned your budget and how realistic it is that your project will deliver what you want it to.

Please read the Budget section of our Guidance for Applicants for help on completing your budget.

Please tell us the total amount you are applying to us for, including any personal access costs (£): £29,722

How much of this request is for your/your collaborators' personal access costs (£)? £0

What do we mean by 'Personal access costs'?

*If you, or any of the core team of people you are delivering the project with, experience barriers because you identify as:

- D/deaf or disabled
- neurodivergent
- experience learning difficulties
- having a mental health condition

there may be extra costs relating to your access needs. These would be to:

- help you deliver the project; or
- for the online management of your grant.
- Some examples are: a BSL interpreter, a notetaker, or specialist tutor for admin support, or counselling costs.

Costs can only be for the project period (between your project start date and end date).

Costs for caring responsibilities or costs for making your activity accessible to the people experiencing your project, including participants, can be included as part of your project budget but should not be included as personal access costs.

Only include personal access costs that you will have if your application is successful. This does not include costs relating to preparing, planning and submitting your application.

You can find more about personal access costs, and more about how we can support you to submit an application, in our Access Support information sheet.

If your personal access costs take your request over £100,000 we will still treat your application as an application for £30,001 and over

Up to 1500 characters

- How have you worked out the earned income you expect to receive during the project?
- How likely are you to secure your expected income?
- How will your project meet its aims if you receive less income than expected?

CONFIRMED

- Grief & Creative Writing Group has already had 8 confirmed participants sign up: this initial registry of interest post-workshop & commitment to the project initiated the programme to begin with. £42 x 8 (£7 per session) = £336
- Rebecca has personal reserves of £700 to contribute to the project.

EXPECTED:

THT is confident in filling all remaining places given the success of the previous workshop. If sales are lower than expected, Rebecca has additional personal reserves, & a contingency budget has been costed.

- Grief & Creative Writing Group: 12 participants x £42 (£7 per session) = £508.
- Grief & Creative Writing Groups sale of pamphlets at 2 x Legacy reading events (20 x £3 expected, average 50% of attendees with 40 total family & friends)
- The Alt Haus: 10% of Advanced sales for 2024/5 year. The Alt Haus writer's retreat space (365 nights x £80 = £29,200 p.a.) approx. Assumed sales; based on year one trading figs in previous calendar yr, also allowing for winter drop off, changeover days and booking fees.

- Your budget must balance. This means your total expenditure needs to be the same amount as your total income.
- Only include expenditure that will be spent between the start and end date of your project.
- The table already includes any Support in kind you added on the Income screen so you do not need to add this.
- Include example breakdown for expenditure, for example: Artist fee (£300 per day x 30 days) £9,000

Risks and challenges

There are risk and challenges to any project. Our funding can support you to take more risks than you might normally be able to. It may allow you to try new creative or cultural ideas, despite the unknowns and the possible financial or reputational risks.

Taking creative or cultural risk is important because it means that creativity and culture are always growing and changing.

It's important that you've thought about what the risks or challenges are. If they happen, you're then able to manage them and still deliver your project successfully.

If you want to understand more about risk, including the different types of risk, you can have a look at our Practitioners guide to identifying and managing risk information sheet.

What are the main risks and challenges to your project meeting its aims?

Up to 2000 characters

- What could go wrong?
- What might happen differently?

Risk 1 geographical isolation: the rural location on Penwith Moor may pose accessibility challenges for some participants; esp those with limited mobility/no personal transport, & those unfamiliar with the area may be subject to greater physical risk (injury related to the moor, getting lost etc.)

R2 residency participants' comfort: participants of the 1 week fully funded residencies may find it hard to settle in The Alt Haus; especially those who have travelled far

R3 mentee expectations: mentors & mentees may have differing expectations re goals/structure & outcomes of the mentoring relationship

R4 G&CW participant engagement/dropout: participants may struggle with the creative writing process due to emotional overwhelm; it is likely participants won't have written about their grief & death experiences before, & writing can be an activating process. This may become reason for participants to dropout.

R5 privacy concerns: participants may have concerns about the privacy/confidentiality of their shared experiences & written work; affecting their willingness to fully engage in the G&CW programme & receive the most from it.

R6: balancing personal & group needs: given the weight of death & grief as creative writing subject matters, it is likely that heavy emotions will move at some point. It is vital that the G&CW is available to support 1:1, & also balance group needs; maintaining a safe & held environment for all participants.

What will you do to manage these risks?

Up to 2000 characters

- What plans have you put in place?
- Have these actions worked before?

Mitigation1 : triage partners will consider individual needs within onboarding documents, & pre-residency zoom calls + info packs will include maps, travel options. WiC will do their best to ensure any accessibility limitations are reduced. Documents provided will outline what to do in any emergency situations; with contact numbers available for in-person support.

M2: partner communication will be maintained throughout the prep period. Residency participants will also have contact with Rebecca before arriving, establishing a familiarity that supports the sense of safety/landing for their stay. They will additionally be supported by their respective org partners.

M3: a thorough onboarding process will be conducted with 1:1 mentees, ensuring clarity in what is being offered, & capturing their expectations. This will provide mentees with an opportunity to clearly rectify any early discrepancies & align the mentoring plan to suit their needs.

M4: participants will be provided with orientation for all 6 sessions; supporting them to anticipate the overall structure & goals of the journey. They will be given clear guidance on how to ask for support if they are finding the process overwhelming; both in sessions & externally, with helplines provided for extreme scenarios.

M5: participants are given absolute autonomy over how much they participate, & how much they share. Participants also will sign a confidentiality agreement; confirming they will only share of their own experiences, & never disclose another participants' story. Legacy events will be entirely directed by the participants; choosing how much they share, & who they invite to the evening.
M6: the G&CW programme is facilitated in 2 groups of 10, ensuring numbers are kept low & intimacy is maintained. The workshops are carefully curated to balance personal writing time & process, & group sharing. In the case that an individual needs 1:1 support, there will always be 2 facilitators present.

Safeguarding

You acknowledge that safeguarding is important in all projects working with the public. You acknowledge that if your project is funded you must sign up to Terms and Conditions that require you to have appropriate policies and procedures in place – and to put them into effect where needed – to support the safe delivery of the project.

About you / your organisation

We use all of this information in an anonymised way to help us see a clear picture of who we are supporting through Project Grants, and how this might need to change to ensure that, over time, the grants we make reflect the diversity of contemporary England.

We also use some of the information to help us make funding decisions.

Sometimes we prioritise supporting people and organisations who share characteristics that are underrepresented in recipients or beneficiaries of National Lottery Project Grants funding, so it helps us to know the characteristics of the individual or the organisation applying.

We believe that the creativity of each of us should be valued and given the chance to flourish, and every one of us should have access to a remarkable range of high-quality cultural experiences.

Equitable access to arts and culture funding is an important part of this. We believe the spread of who and what we invest in should reflect the makeup of the wider country we live in.

This is about us delivering on our Equality Objective:

We will ensure a more equitable distribution of our investment to improve opportunities for everyone, especially those with under-represented protected characteristics and from disadvantaged socio-economic groups.

We know from our data that Black, Asian and ethnically diverse people and disabled people are underrepresented as recipients and beneficiaries of National Lottery Project Grants funding. If you choose to tell us, information about your ethnicity and whether you identify as a disabled person may be used as part of our decision-making process. (If you're applying as an organisation, we'll use the information you give us about the characteristics of your organisation's board and/or senior management.) We will use this information combined with information about who your project will work with, and all the other information you give us about your project.

We will never share this information with others, except in an anonymised way.

If you're not comfortable sharing any of this information with us for this purpose, you can select 'Prefer not to say'.

Monitoring information

We use the information in this section to report how we have spent our funding from the National Lottery.

In this section, you must answer all the questions. If you prefer not to provide some of the information, you can tick the 'Prefer not to answer' box. We may use this information to report to the Government or to monitor the different backgrounds of people who receive grants.
