Feasibility and risk

This section helps us to understand how you will successfully deliver your project.

We need to know your plans for managing the project, what your budget is and how you will respond to any risks or challenges.

You don't need to have managed a project before, but you need to be able to demonstrate that you have given consideration to how you will manage the project, the budget, and any risks/challenges, and that you or your project partners have the skills to ensure it is delivered successfully.

When we look at your answers to the questions in this section we will think about:

- whether the budget is appropriate for the scale and type of activity?
- how appropriate are the areas of income and spending?
- whether all items in the budget are relevant and reasonable [are fees or wages appropriate to the context? Have quotes for assets/equipment been appropriately researched for any purchases?]
- whether the activity is attracting income from other sources; - is any other income confirmed? If not, are your potential income sources realistic?
- if appropriate financial controls are in place - Do you or the people you're working with have the necessary skills to manage the budget?
- if the activity is realistic and well-planned, and if you have demonstrated that you or the people you are working with are able to deliver the project

As you are applying for over £30,000:

- if the cash flow is appropriate for the project

Project timeline

Project dates

Tell us the start and end dates for your project.

Please allow enough time to plan your project and for us to process your application, as well as enough time for us to make a payment before your start date if your project is successful. See our How to apply guidance for more details.

The dates you give here should be the dates for the full project you're asking us to fund.

We need twelve weeks to process applications for over £30,000.

Project start date: 16/01/2023

Project end date: 10/11/2023

Please use the tool below to list the main stages and tasks of the project from the start date onwards, and to show who will lead on each element of the project. Please add each project stage in order. You must enter at least one stage.

To create the table, click the 'Add new item' icon on the left of the screen to add a project stage. To add more than one stage, use the 'Save and Add another' button.

The table at the bottom of the page will populate with the information you enter about the stages of your project.

Income Questions

Tell us more about the match funding for your project

- How you have worked out the earned income you expect to receive during the project?
- Why is it realistic?
- How will your project meet its aims if you receive less income than expected?

Up to 1500 characters

A range of secured income:

- Galashan Trust - totalling: £5500 in place
- Sponsorship Scheme funds: Friends Scheme was set up with the advice & support of the marketing director for Bloomsbury Festival to add sustainable mechanisms & channels for supporters of NW Live to contribute to ongoing work, even when specific concerts are not being delivered - totalling: £10750.

Expected income:

- Cockayne Trust - result will be known by 15th Jan 2023 - if unsuccessful further small trust/foundation applications will be processed: £2000
- Helen Roll Charity - result will be known 10th March 2023 (had previously every year for 4 years & confident of outcome): £5000
- Earned Income - ticket sales: all previous NW Live concerts have achieved 100% capacity - this is expected again, but to be cautious & avoid cash flow issues the sales are proposed at approx 75% - each concert is procured on a hire basis & ticket income generated stays with NW LIVE: 3 x £900 = £2700
- V Williams Trust - result will be known by 15/11/2022 if unsuccessful further small trust/foundation applications will be processed: £1500.

NW also have cash reserves to adopt if the expected income is below target.

Budget - Expenditure

Expenditure table

Please complete the expenditure table below with all your cash expenditure.

Remember:

- Your budget must balance. This means your total expenditure needs to be the same amount as your total income.
- Only include expenditure that will be spent between the start and end date of your project.
- The table already includes any Support in kind you added on the Income screen so you do not need to add this.
- Breakdown your expenditure so we can understand your costs, for example: Artist fee (2 x Creative specialists @ £150 per day for 10 days = £3,000)

Expenditure questions

How have you worked out the costs of the artistic spending included in your budget?

Up to 1500 characters

Artistic spending is calculated by an experienced finance manager on the board in conjunction with Ann Caroline Heslop, Artistic Director, the core creative team & in consultation with the artistic, technical, production & delivery freelancers. All costs are meticulously examined to support industry standards, recognition of excellence & quality & a sustainable approach that makes sure it has explored similar work in the wider ecology. Working with a portfolio of artists & partners ensures that NW Live can refer to each individuals, grps & collectives standards & expectations, whilst always respecting industry minimums.

The board agree the expenditure in advance & calculate the fees, ensuring that the fundraising portfolio is designed to accommodate the need against the NW Live strategic/operational plan.

The producer/manager monitors expenditure, forecasts cash flow, receives invoices & makes payments for the production & outreach, & ensures that the calculation & setting of professional fees is consistent.

Every professional, creative fee is clearly broken down in the attached budget, most fees are calculated on a unit rate & demonstrated as such. All direct quotes have been checked against others available to ensure the best value for money whilst retaining quality practitioners & offering competitive rates to attract key artists.

Delivering the Outcomes

Your Project and the Outcomes

Our strategy sets out three outcomes; Creative People, Cultural Communities and A Creative and Cultural Country. We do not expect every project to address all three outcomes, but we do want projects to align to at least one and to set out in detail how particular components are being addressed.

You can read about our three outcomes here: <https://www.artscouncil.org.uk/outcomes-0>

When we look at your answers to the questions in this section, where relevant we will think about:

- How your project is supporting people at all stages of their lives to design, develop and increase their participation in high quality creative activities
- If your project focuses on children and young people:
 - If your project reaches families from a wide range of backgrounds
 - If you are widening and improving opportunities for children and young people to take part in creative activities outside schools
 - if your project is supporting children and young people to develop their creative skills and potential
- If you are working with communities to better understand and respond to their needs and interests, resulting in increased cultural engagement and the wide range of social benefits it brings
- If your project is exploring new types of creative practice, new forms of cultural content and new ways of reaching new and existing audiences and participants
- If you are collaborating with other cultural organisations and/or with the commercial creative industries and/or with further and higher education that focuses on innovation, research and development and training, especially in relation to the use of new technologies
- If your project is strengthening the international connections of cultural organisations and creative and cultural practitioners, including co-production and touring
- If your project is bringing world-class culture to audiences in England
- If your project helps to ensure people have opportunities to sustain their careers and fulfil their potential in the creative industries, especially those who are currently under-represented
- If your project is connecting people and places, nationally and internationally

How will your project contribute to the delivery of at least one of our Outcomes, including which, if any, of the Outcome components?

A Creative and Cultural Country: England's cultural sector is innovative, collaborative and international, Cultural Communities: Villages, towns and cities thrive through a collaborative approach to culture, Creative People: Everyone can develop and express creativity throughout their life

Please click the 'Save' button below after you have answered the question.

People Music and Place (MP) is the result of 2 years of in-depth consultation; with research, delivery & growth assisted by embedded partners. Grassroots orgs, world class musicians & artists, & a portfolio of venues (both community focused & internationally renowned) have grown the model, the popularity of the live concerts & wkshp series.

NW Live (NWL) employ diverse music & cultural practitioners; each pedagogy chosen to support underrepresented & underserved communities to build towards concert programmes, performing alongside diverse musicians who rehearse & perform new, commissioned compositions, utilising instrumentation from Africa, India & Europe (contemporary/traditional classical & jazz modalities).

Bespoke compositions performed at the concerts are informed by the stories, images & poems produced in wkshps, in response to themes of climate change & homelessness. The work enquires as to our communality & uses storytelling & music as shared languages to respond. NWL put Metroculturals, Commuterland Culture Buffs & Experience Seekers with underserved grps, creating new artists, & building new audiences, in elite arts spaces.

The initial 2 day RnD (strategic & operational considerations) & pilot wkshps investigate how participants value/benefit from working alongside professional musicians & how NWL can build musical/creative storytelling skills in communities. Over the previous 2 yrs of wkshps & concerts, communities have become the 'creative partners' & inform each delivery/concert programme. Embedding feedback in this new series; NWL establish a sensitive evaluative process & within each project, collaborators are able to develop work that best empowers new grps.

By co-creating interdisciplinary work & building platforms where social themes & ideas are delivered in engaging ways, NWL is enabling participants to explore & extend their own creative practices. NWL creatives lead an exploration of stories in games in early sessions, aimed at building secure relationships. Decisions about content are shared by the participants. Wkshps with musicians allow participants to incorporate musical skills in their storytelling.

By developing ongoing relationships with participants from former projects & offering people a chance to connect emotionally through music & reawaken interest in listening to & making music NWL is building trust, to take vulnerable/underserved grps on a journey to high profile events, using venues like Cecil Sharp Hse, Arts Depot Finchley, Art Workers Guild etc.

In the programme of wkshps & collaborative performances, students & community performers develop contact with professional artists, experience working in a variety of venues, deepening relationships with sector orgs. This enables NW Live to increase its reach to diverse young community performers, creatives, practitioners & musicians.

Cultural Communities:

How will your project contribute to this outcome?

Up to 3000 characters

NWL are collaborating with a roster of world renowned creatives & performers & renewing existing partnerships with Single Homeless Project, Holborn Community Association & Birkbeck University & the Bloomsbury Festival to enable the creative exploration of topical social issues. New partners include Calthorpe Project & communities working with Arts Depot Finchley.

In the initial RnD wkshp & pilot wkshps, NWL are systemising & enhancing their approach, both in the ecology (through consistent partner offers) & in operational/creative delivery. They will:

- invite participants from former projects (with Free Space Project & Write to Life)
- work with the team of creatives, the NWL team & reps from current partners for the 3 concert series projects
- invite a consultant to complete the RnD line up, feeding in info from local stakeholders to ensure the RnD is innovative, representative & inclusive.

The RnD wkshps will:

- build a resilient, joined up creative offer
- systemise the process of outreach & concerts.

Project timeline:

1. RnD: 2 days consultation & pilot wkshps with Free space & Write to life + musicians & NWL team
2. Soundscapes 1 - Arts Depot Finchley: venue & community partner
3. Along the Road - Single Homeless Project & Cecil Sharpe Hse
4. Soundscapes 2 - Bloomsbury Festival & Holborn Community Association, with Calthorpe Project, Birkbeck University Compass Scholars & undergraduates from GSMD Guildhall (shadowing musicians).

MP models creative, connected communities at street level whilst building an approach that can scale up to a neighbourhood, city or region through the shared experience of professionals & participants. Testing the model with former participants (The Free Space Project, Write to Life) builds in continuity, reconnects old partners & avoids 'single use' ideology. It ensures that each participant has the space, skills & confidence to work thematically, in a multi disciplinary environment with a cohesive team of highly skilled & socially engaged practitioners. It then takes that production ethic & transfers it to a high profile platform. This model is proven & successful; building the RnD of the pilot/RnD in, ensures a future facing creative business that supports the London arts ecology with innovative measures.

Outsourcing evaluation builds a creative framework to make sure partners are effective, ecologically developmental & aspirational to improve visibility for NWL. Working in this extensive partnership offers scope for peer, partner & participant review in the evaluation scheme to improve the artistic experience & provide evidence of the creative benefits & cultural impact on each community of interest.

NWL collaborative projects & concerts:

- strengthen connections across sectors
- build links between cultural practitioners - younger/older musicians & interdisciplinary creatives (storytellers with musicians etc. who are international artists).

A Creative and Cultural Country:
How will your project contribute to this outcome?

Up to 3000 characters

MP is speaking to a hyper local & national ecology, where integrated practice, socially engaged work & cultural enrichment are combined to provide innovative & new ways of working together to ensure we all consume culture that improves quality of life & promotes social cohesion.

NWL is:

- Working with diverse musicians, storytellers & wkshp facilitators covering Africa, India, Asia & Europe
- Putting live music from diverse genres at the heart of the programme, to dispel cultural tropes & unite communities
- Commissioning new works for the projects by composer-musicians from international pedagogies
- Demonstrating the collaborative working with student musicians, emphasising an extended creative & social role through musical improvisation
- Offering British born & immigrant musicians a chance to sustain their careers at mid point to ensure no brain drain back to Europe post Brexit
- Working with community participants to produce new work & reaching audiences that come to hear one genre but get to know more; cross fertilisation of audiences, eg oud & lute playing renaissance European music together with Arabic poetry & stories from a homeless grp. Or, an arrangement of David Bowie Starman where guitar is replaced by kora, drum kit by tabla etc.
- Supporting musicians to use improvisation & repertoire from different genres & evolve that in a rehearsal process with the community participants listening & contributing their understanding of the social theme
- Revisiting venues where they have performed before & exploring new venues with associated audiences building a bigger ecological footprint for NWL & associated grps/partners
- Dispelling tropes connected to music from the world & uniting audiences from folkloric & classical genres in the same space, building new markets in 2022 for fused work (as is exploding across the Jazz scene)
- Bringing world class music & musicians to underserved communities & traditional audiences alike.

NWL is innovating & building scalable bridges between the cultural & community sector, working on the ground it provides a pathway into the arts whilst brokering relationships between venues, public/private/third sector orgs & hence cross fertilised audiences from diverse demographics.

In 2021/22 it built new partnerships that supported 120 ppl to collab with 20 musicians from 4 continents to perform to 1000+ ppl. This growth is reflected in new partnerships, visibility & stakeholders converting to ticket sales & a more diverse board, core team & audience.

NWL works within the context of Cultural Camden, has researched & responded to Camden Alive, Open & Outdoor & We Make Camden campaign, to ensure the work is joined up. NWL align with the principles of connected citizens, & the aspiration to develop Camden's sense of place through its theme of Music & Place for the 2022 programmes.

Inclusivity and Relevance

This Investment Principle is about England's diversity being fully reflected in the organisations and individuals we support and the culture they produce through:

Communities

- Tell us who you want to reach with this project, how you have identified them, and how they have been involved in the planning and/or creative process
- Tell us about the steps will you take to make sure your project is open and accessible to people within the communities you plan to work with

Up to 2000 characters

NWL asks vulnerable communities how it can meet their cultural needs by going into their space & facilitating the creative transition to normative performance spaces within the professional concert series.

NWL are:

- reaching local audiences in Camden & neighbouring boroughs through marketing in print / social media
- reaching people who have experienced homelessness & are trying to rehabilitate through SHP in our storytelling workshops
- reaching participants for creative writing / music skills wkshps through Write to Life.

Each project is designed to makes it accessible to the particular community grps with whom they are working through extensive consultation & embedded pilot wkshps. The concerts are in local venues with a hyper local audience. Ticket prices are reasonable & concessionary rates make it more accessible. Families & friends of participants are prioritised. Concerts are all introduced – musicians break down the barrier between performer & audience so the audience feels included. Everyone involved has a voice in how the concert will happen – co-curation is at the heart of it.

NWLA has been working with different partner charities to understand the needs of vulnerable participants by engaging them in creative writing, storytelling & performance, alongside musicians, as a way to improve self esteem & wellbeing.

As NW LIVE builds its organisational profile, the programme, musicians, practitioners & community partners, it supports & nurtures yng freelance artists (GSMD in 2023) & community performers, uniting them with internationally acclaimed professional musicians to collaborate on creative interpretation of important social themes.

The project is built on extensive, in depth consultations & contact with partners, participants & venues in the local ecology, ensuring needs & local priorities (as described in policy for part of Camden's intercultural cities activity) were met in the design of the project. A plan was drawn up as the basis for all evaluative & consultative reports going forward. This was informed by a discussion with key stakeholders through 2021. Current partners inc. SHP, Bloomsbury, Kings Place, Arts Depot Finchley etc have been consulted in depth, to ascertain information which contextualises the quantitative data offered in the most recent indices of deprivation documents, which evidence parts of Camden such as Gospel Oak, as one of the top 5% most deprived areas in the country.

Beginning with the pilot RnD wkshps, the NWL board & core team will build a stakeholder grp to meet regularly through the project to capture & review progress for each community of interest; artists, audiences, partner grps, venues & participants.

The grp, coordinated by the Artistic Director/Producer in an active, responsive & inclusive evaluation programme will continually reviews the process & react accordingly. NWL have worked in-depth with these partners over 2 yrs & understand that feedback is key to creating aligned, apposite work. The final report will be added to a professionally commissioned evaluation from Sasolo; the two documents capture the range of professional & participant experiences. The documents will be shared with all partners including Camden Council & made available digitally to increase opportunities for others to explore the socially engaged model.

Developing Your Work

NWL is aligning with the Intercultural Cities Programme ethics & Camden's 'No One Left Behind' policy which informs the NWL programming strategy to involve every-body in the arts. This programme enables NWL to:

- build sustainability
- access/review/revise in depth consultation from the last 2 yrs
- conduct thorough 'in residence' RnD with artists & past participants
- begin to understand & explore how a year of wkshp & concert delivery scales up into a long term vision that (by 2025) tours regionally
- offer constant, properly financed infrastructure support to ensure vulnerable & underserved ppl to build new skill sets, get involved in culture & creativity & perform with mid-career artists in high profile situations.
- unpack its intercultural & intersectional policy to develop strategies that manage diversity positively.

The ambition is:

- to develop & sustain strong working relationships with a diverse group of high calibre musicians, story tellers, community & arts venues & community partners working with underrepresented communities
- improve methods & embed sustainable pedagogies via the RnD pilot wkshps to better deliver creative wkshps
- use funding to underpin better production techniques & have time to network & improve the ecological fit in order to continue with inspiring interdisciplinary live concerts, to audiences in London (& on tour in the future)
- nurture community participants/partner orgs to develop closer relationships that build skills & agency for emerging creatives from vulnerable & underserved backgrounds
- remove barriers to participation in the arts through the unpacking of tropes around classical music & the introduction of new pedagogies from international traditions.

Measuring Your Progress

If you are setting out what good looks like for your project and know how you'll track how well you're doing and how well it's been received, tell us about it here:

Success is:

- 3 films (1 of each concert) - digital legacy to archive, share with partners, promoters etc.
- unique, documented, NWL pedagogy
- diverse British/International musicians perform folkloric/classical work building new audiences for each genre
- new, universally agreed deliverables
- participants driven instrument selection (djembe, percussion etc)
- embedded (policy stated) creative practices (i.e. describing storytelling as an accessible, inclusive medium that offers universal catharsis)
- participants confident to participate & perform
- a pathway to positive associations with 'classical music', through the dispelling of tropes & inclusion of world music as a classical genre, to connect to diverse participants.

Wkshp & concert series:

- 3 successful concerts with 3 new co-devised compositions performed by a professional ensemble
- Interdisciplinary work performed by participants in poetry, storytelling, music
- 4 student musicians gaining skills & traction in socially engaged practice
- 60+ participants building skills & confidence.

Sustainability & Best Practice

The project develops partnerships, eg. with Single Homeless Project (who have asked NWL to come back, as a result of the 2022 project Where will I be? SHP clients are continuing their own storytelling group anticipating NWL's return to deliver a 16 wk project with them (Along the Road) in 2023). This project enables the Creative Director to focus more on developing the range of artistic inclusivity by enabling a supportive team & longer more sustained communication with existing partners & new. NWL are piloting how to best deliver wkshps. For the first time, they will involve a mixed community of former participants in the pilot, this brings different communities together & success is understanding the common need of underserved grps whilst retaining a bespoke approach with artists, creative practice & pedagogies that suit each to generate the best GLO/GSO's.

Dynamism

This Investment Principle is about being dynamic and able to respond to the challenges of the next decade.

You don't have to use this Investment Principle to tell us about your project, but if you think it is relevant to your project you can tick the box(es) below and tell us.

Any information you provide here we will use when making a decision on your application.

The way you work

If you are testing your organisation's model or your individual practice to ensure you can account for change, or adjust when things do not go as planned, tell us about it here:

Up to 2000 characters

NWL are:

- testing the new team model - securing a freelance team who can commit to the term of each project & retain skills for longitudinal investment
- developing the knowledge of & network of experienced people working in Arts & community orgs to create a sharing model, where information, skills & resources are shared to create a more nimble & resilient delivery model, erasing the need to repeat, retrain, re-learn wherever possible.
- diversifying the board & building minimum standards for diversity into policy docs, the RnD will embed a full set of policies & minimum standards for the first time
- testing the model in Barnet (Arts Depot Finchley) replicating the approach of past work with Write to Life (etc)
- exploring a commitment to equality of opportunity by documenting inclusion, approach, diversity & equality standards informed by partners & participants in the initial phases.

NWL adapts to change fast. Since Covid, & the three previous rejections from ACE on competition for funds, NWL continued to fundraise, build partnerships & build experience & skills. Having now created a strong ecological position it is vital that the skills & experience of the core team; in digital marketing, production, artistic direction, & wider skills in photography & film are consolidated to capitalise on the massive investment of time & resources.

NWL have demonstrated the team's capacity to adapt & work in dynamic ways & accounted for change, building a new board, finding the best people to collab with & bringing in freelancers with the right skill sets, without sacrificing the core principles of engagement for grps that traditionally are the 1st to suffer due to cuts.

NWL provide connections to artist & industry professionals to develop skills in the workplace, & opportunities to see other performances with venue partners & other art organisations.

Developing People

If you plan to develop you/your organisation's skills and knowledge, tell us about it here:

X

Up to 2000 characters

NWL are:

- developing skills & knowledge of NWL musical practitioners as creative musicians. This is vital, the investment of time & resources to build the skill set so far is now at a pivot point where the NWL USP must be established, documenting pedagogies.
- developing NWL musicians socially engaged & mentoring skills, working with community participants
- developing the improvisation skills of younger student musicians who will be shadowing NWL musicians in the Along the Road wkshps/concert as well as their skills in working with community participants on a creative project
- developing the artistic director & producers' wider skill set; liaising with venues, gatekeepers, board members; engaging with regional strategy
- building/retaining in house: production skills, scheduling, planning performances, ticketing, financial planning etc on a larger scale for each year's delivery/ strategy. Funding prevents silo working/brain drain, where each project has to start from ground zero as freelancers drift back to other paid work. Proper remuneration for sufficient time builds stability & core capacity
- enabling artists to take risks, create new work, fuse styles, motifs & modalities from classical, folkloric & modern repertoires.

In January 2023 NW Live has 3 days of consultancy wkshps with embedded partners, SHP, HCA, Birkbeck University Compass Scholars (refugees) & new partners Arts Depot & students from Guildhall. This is to devise a structure for the wkshps with critical input from those who participated in 2022. With SHP in particular NWL will:

- discuss a programme to engage young clients in SHP
- explore enabling confidence through sharing experiences & building stories with practitioners responding to the theme of Along the Road.
- create a safe & nurturing process, working with experienced practitioner Eileen Egerton & overseen by Melanie Wilson.

4. Subsidy Control

The Subsidy Control rules are the new legal requirements that apply to the award of subsidies in the United Kingdom with effect from 11pm 31 December 2020. They have largely replaced EU State aid rules.

Where a "Subsidy" is present as per the definition of subsidy set out in the Subsidy Control Act 2022 ("the Act") then it is necessary for the award to comply with requirements set out in the Trade and Cooperation Agreement with the EU (and in due course those further requirements set out in the Act).

A "Subsidy" only exists when the following cumulative characteristics are present (only tick those that apply):

- financial assistance which is given, directly or indirectly, from public resources by a public authority; and
- confers an economic advantage on one or more enterprises; and
- is specific, that is, is such that it benefits one or more enterprises over one or more other enterprises with respect to the production of goods or the provision of services; and

- has, or is capable of having, an effect on —
 - (i) competition or investment within the United Kingdom,
 - (ii) trade between the United Kingdom and a country or territory outside the United Kingdom, or
 - (iii) investment as between the United Kingdom and a country or territory outside the United Kingdom.

If awarded, do you believe that your request for public funding meets all the necessary criteria to be classed as a "Subsidy"?

No

Where a "Subsidy" is declared you will be required to provide further information to establish whether the "Subsidy" would be considered lawful.

5. Tick the relevant box if any person involved in the project or writing the application:

I am happy to be contacted by Arts Council England, or by a third-party organisation on behalf of Arts Council England, for feedback to help evaluate the programme.

- 12.4 Subject to Article 12.1 every issue shall be determined by a majority of the votes cast at a meeting but a written resolution signed by all the Directors is as valid as a resolution passed at a meeting (and for this purpose the resolution may be contained in more than one document and will be treated as passed on the date of the last signature)

'Creative People'

Career opportunities for student musicians (and participating musicians):

From my first project with NW Live Arts, I was able to meet a diverse network of musicians and creative practitioners, from which I have been involved in further projects both within NW Live Arts and outside. One example is being booked for another project with Misha Mullov-Abbado with Sinfonia Cymru (2022 April) highlighting chamber music and improvisations, which came about through collaborating with Misha on NW Live projects in the same year. For a young musician to be able to collaborate with such amazing established musicians such as Kuljit Bhamra MBE is a fantastic opportunity both musically and going forward as a collaborator in a freelance performing career.

I have also joined the board of Trustees of NW Live, contributing to its progression and also learning as a young artist how Arts Charities are structured and run, which has been instrumental in my own performance career and for curating my own concert series in rural Derbyshire. In particular working with NW Live's Artistic Director Caroline Heslop has been hugely inspiring, as a female director building this organisation from scratch and leading a highly skilled team. Working with this organisation has helped me in leading my own projects in my career as a freelance musician. Caroline especially is a hugely inspiring role-model.

The opportunity to collaborate with improvisation is a huge benefit to any participant's creative practice. It is a skill that can be carried forward in your career, and upskilled when meeting musicians from different musical backgrounds, as you do in any NW Live project. Students learning from these projects will be able to take this skillset into their own performance careers, as a tool to connect with audiences and in different performance settings. Having this skill makes you highly desirable to book for 'new music' projects (especially for Classically trained musicians).

Participants who are non-professional musicians and professional musicians gain confidence, teamwork skills, listening and resilience through working with NW Live and their musicians. Skills which are highly desirable for any career-path

Support for ACE Application for NW LIVE ARTS – Melanie Wilson, General Manager

In January 2023 NW Live has planned three days of consultancy workshops with our ongoing partners, Single Homeless Project, Holborn Community Association, Birkbeck University Compass Scholars (refugees) and new partners Arts Depot and students from Guildhall School of Music and Drama. This is to devise a structure and programme for the workshops with critical input from those who participated in 2022 and what outcomes they would like to achieve. With Single Homeless Project in particular we want to discuss a programme to engage the young clients in SHP and their participation in the workshops enabling them to build confidence through sharing experiences and building stories with practitioners and musicians responding to the theme of Along the Road. We offer a safe and nurturing process, working with experienced practitioner Eileen Egerton and overseen by Melanie Wilson, General Manager (previously Producer, London Programme, Streetwise Opera devising workshops and performances). We provide connection to artist and industry professionals and opportunity to mentoring with art professionals to develop skills in the workplace. We also offer opportunities to see other performances within our programme and performances with our venue partners and other art organisations.

As NW LIVE builds its organisational profile, the programme, musicians, practitioners and community partners, it continues to support and nurture young freelance artists (GSMD in 2023) and community performers. NW LIVE brings them together with internationally acclaimed professional musicians to collaborate on a creative interpretation and exploration of important social themes.

Through NW LIVE's programme of workshops and collaborative performances, students and community performers will develop contacts with professional artists, experience working in a variety of venues and with key individuals in the artform, deepening its relationships with sector organisations. This will also enable NW Live to increase its reach to diverse young community performers, creatives, practitioners and musicians.

We have a strong ambition to continue to increase the diversity of NW Live's participants and our freelance workforce, and are actively searching for exceptional young creative talent through forming relationships with higher education institutions and communities. They will be introduced to relatable and aspirational role-models as well as developing their creative, performative, personal and inter-personal skills.

Audiences will have the opportunity to experience quality performances featuring emerging talent alongside professionals, collaboration between community participants and musicians telling stories and poetry through sound.

Support for NW Live Arts funding application – Matthew Reisz (freelance journalist)

The concerts organised by NW Live Arts have always combined exuberant and virtuoso performances of music from all over the world with powerful and often disturbing spoken material addressing crucial social issues such as migration, homelessness and the traumas of war. Most are put together in partnership with leading charities.

The latest - Music & Place: 'Finding My Voice' - included some poignant poetry from people in Freedom from Torture's Write to Life group, who have fled persecution and found safety in the UK but are still wrestling with the terrible losses of their original languages and the struggle to recreate themselves in English.

But if languages can keep us apart, music can reach across countries and continents. Expert performers on the tabla and the calabash appeared alongside a classically trained violinist and cellist to perform music from Sardinia and Scotland, India and West Africa, Black America and the Ukraine. Even Bach didn't seem out of place! At a time when insular populism seems to be on the rise in much of the world, the concert was a vivid reminder of what we all have in common and how music from everywhere can tap into the joys, dreams and experiences of us all.

Letter of Support

Re: NW Live Arts application to Arts Council England for Soundscapes from the Planet

I am delighted to endorse NW Live Arts' application for funding to support the planned Soundscapes from the Planet project in 2023. We have partnered with NW Live Arts on a number of successful projects in the past and this year (2022) will be presenting a concert with them that brings together a programme featuring a collaboration with Freedom from Torture's Write to Life group that explores what it means to find your voice.

We very much look forward to presenting the Soundscapes from the Planet project in the 2023 Bloomsbury Festival and I have no hesitation in endorsing what I'm sure will be another enriching musical experience for all involved.

I do hope that you will be able to support NW Live Arts in this important way so they can continue to produce musical and community projects of the highest quality.

'reimagining classical concerts in neighbourhood venues'

NW LIVE ARTS

Who we are and what we do

NW Live Arts (NWLA) was founded in 2018. Our aim is to deliver exciting, high quality concerts in accessible, neighbourhood venues. These concerts bring together different classical and cultural forms and are performed by globally renowned musicians. Each concert focuses on an important social theme—climate, migration, homelessness—and these are explored through the music, but also through other art forms such as spoken word, imagery and poetry.

NWLA is run by a team of innovative and experienced arts professionals who are committed to meaningful outreach that engages diverse community groups. Through workshops and learning programmes, these groups work in dialogue with professional musicians and facilitators to make unique contributions to each concert. Many of these groups would never previously have had the chance to engage with this sort of music or event.

What we value and believe

At NWLA, we value the unparalleled dedication, commitment and vision of our highly trained musicians. We value their skill in the classical forms from diverse cultural origins. We value the fact they engage in creative projects with active community participants and share their performances with local audiences. We value their ability to inspire new musical encounters, fight preconceptions and help people and communities build life-long relationships with music and the arts.

We believe everyone, whatever their background, should be able to experience the depth and resonance of a live, high quality classical music performance. We believe the arts and music have a positive impact on lives and communities. We believe music enhances well-being, mental stability, self-esteem and social coherence.

What we have achieved

Since our foundation, with limited funding, we have produced nine sell-out concerts with associated workshop programmes. Throughout the pandemic, we continued to deliver concerts live (when permitted) and online. The pandemic prompted a new way of thinking and we devised a series of digital engagement strategies and ways of including individuals and communities in our work. We have partnered with a diverse suite of arts and well-being partners who complement and support our vision. We have far exceeded our initial expectations and have proved that we are flexible, responsive and Covid-resilient.

NWLA: vision, mission & purpose

There is a unique value in classical music from around the world. It has a transformative power. It promotes deep rooted joy, poignancy, fulfilment and well-being that can benefit communities and individuals.

Unfortunately, many communities are unable to access or engage with classical music forms. Some people would never think of attending a concert. Some feel intimidated. Some feel the classical form is not intended for them. NWLA gives communities the access, opportunity and confidence to experience a world-class concert in their neighbourhood.

- We break the mould
- We engage with a diverse range of communities across north and northwest London
- We deliver high calibre performances in local community venues
- We offer communities the chance to be part of the process; to interact with the musicians and participate in creative workshops and concerts - live and online.

No other arts organisation is doing all this.

We believe we can help create a more caring, supportive and integrated society by putting the arts at the heart of communities and by focusing on relevant social themes.

Benefits to our community

Events

Our concerts have included venues such as Kentish Town Health Centre, Salvation Army Hall - Chalk Farm and Holy Cross Church - Cromer Street. Themes we have focused on include Music & Mind, Music & Soul, Music & Body and Music & Renewal.

Every concert has sold out. Pre-pandemic audiences numbered 120 per concert. In the past year, with social distancing, we were still able to offer 50 seats at each event. Audiences have been characterised by their diversity. The concerts have brought together local music lovers, supporters of the venues, community participants, followers of the arts and subscribed NWLA followers. They have also included people from across the age range.

Alongside music, we explore other art forms in our concerts and workshops: free creative writing (Music & Mind), theatre with soldiers with PTSD (Music & Soul), poetry with refugees (Music & Body) and video art with people who have experienced mental health issues (Music & Renewal). Together with the musicians and artistic directors, community participants curate the final concert programme so they are represented in the final work and have ownership.

Digital and live

We have developed an attractive and user-friendly website. Our online following has grown through the strategic implementation of imaginative digital projects. During lockdown, our online creative events reached hundreds of people who would never have had access. Feedback has shown that this was a way for people to connect, address lockdown anxiety and feel part of the community.

Over the next three years, we intend to double the number of concerts, enabling us to reach many more people and engage with different communities. We want to develop the range of workshops we offer and nurture stronger partnerships with the Bloomsbury Festival and with arts and community venues across north London and beyond.

Alongside this, we want to build our online presence and continue to offer imaginative and creative online projects by developing our own brand of online lunchtime concerts, for example, and sharing performances from live concerts together with interviews with different artists and project participants.

Feedback

What our community participants say about us

Art has this ability to allow the scared and troubled mind to shine a light on the darkness of the soul and reaffirm our basic humanity.

Over the weeks of rehearsals it was a joy to belong and care for each other. The performance night was a revelation, the warmth of the audience and the standing ovation, for our story, stunned and inspired us.

Thank you for setting it all up and giving us a chance to get in touch with ourselves, long may you continue this great work.

Neil Davies former soldier and community participant in Music & Soul June 2019

Thank you for a marvellous successful concert, where I was practically onstage with the musicians and every note was thrilling & resonating all through me.

Paul, community participant in Music & Mind November 2018

I would like to thank you for giving me the chance to be part of your beautiful concert. It was really a great experience and opportunity for me to meet all these beautiful people.

Alex, asylum seeker and community participant in Music & Body November 2019

Why people come to our concerts

What I loved most was the eclectic mix of world music, classical music and poetry and the great variety of instruments. The poetry was very moving. Fabulous instrumental playing from all.

Music & Place -Belonging May 2021

I've enjoyed previous NW concerts and want to support the 'cause' which I think is brilliant.

Music & Place -Belonging May 2021

Music & Body was one of the most uplifting evenings of my year. The music was breath-taking, the stories deeply moving & I left feeling a deep sense of pride in our beautiful, welcoming multicultural community. In these divided times, Music & Body gave me hope that our country at its core is a place that nurtures culture and talent and a deep sense of common decency.

Music & Body November 2019

I am sometimes nervous about cross-cultural explorations but this one was really vibrant and thought provoking = the theme of renewal and the commitment of the individual musicians was truly inspiring.

Music & Renewal October 2020

I came because it sounded intriguing!

Music & Place – Belonging May 2021

The way ahead

After an incredible first two years, it is time to take stock of our progress and achievements and plan strategically for where we will next take the charity.

We have received project funding for all our concerts from the Arts Council and small funds from other trusts - for which we are extremely grateful. We are also building strong relationships with partners and venues in north and northwest London. These include Freedom from Torture, St Mungo's Recovery College, The Foundling Museum, Bloomsbury Festival and King's Place.

However, in order to fulfil our mission and meet our objects we need to develop a stable income stream and find new supporters. Without this we cannot operate as a sustainable organisation.

Following consultation with trustees, funders and key community stakeholders, we are working to develop a more sustainable delivery model.

Proposed Artist Residency Programme

NWLA's artistic director will coordinate and run a 3-day hothouse residency development programme with musicians and workshop facilitators that will investigate an embedded delivery and sustainability model to investigate:

- Deliverable artistic content, specifically around the intersection of classical music with 'world' genres
- Ways in which NWLA can embed previously outsourced workshop series & attendant outreach in-house
- Ways in which NWLA can provide relevant & ongoing support to engage diverse participants in the arts
- Gather insight into ways to enrich diverse participants' artistic endeavours & experiences
- Ultimately enable NWLA workshop delivery and outreach to be an embedded offer rather than expertise that has to be sourced from outside.

The hothouse residency investigation will build NWLA's existing workshop offer, endeavour to bring this in-house, grow and enrich programme content for this & future projects and provide long-term sustainability for NWLA.

Ideas to be explored will include:

- Artistic content and approaches
- Artist in residence - roles, responsibilities and commitments
- Outreach opportunities and sustainable arts workshop practice
- Reusable workshop content
- Downloadable participant packs
- Safeguarding policy and practice
- GDPR responsibilities
- New partnership approaches.

Three year plan

NWLA aims to ensure realistic, achievable work that will make a real difference for the communities, audiences and artists. We have developed a three year plan - as follows:

The future

The future of NWLA looks promising. We plan to embed continuity with our outreach work and thus continue to make a positive impact. Our aim is to become a sustainable arts organisation capable of supporting the artists, audiences and participants in NW London and beyond.

In these challenging times the arts have never been more important to educate and bring communities together. The arts support in areas such as mental health and also for pure entertainment. We aim to continue making a measurable difference to the communities in which we work.

NW Live Arts Patron Kuljit Bhamra MBE

"Music has a natural therapeutic quality to it. We listen to recordings through headphones or speakers at home when we desire a mood change or a soundtrack to whatever we're doing. Music performed live has even more power to provoke thought and emotion. I'm delighted that NW Live Arts has created a mission to actively create platforms where social themes and ideas can be delivered in engaging ways - directly into the hearts of communities by talented artists and musicians."
