Your project

What do we mean by 'project'? For us, a project is something that has:

- A start and end date
- Clear things you want to achieve in that time
- Ways for people to experience or take part in creativity or culture (either as part of the project or in the future)

This section of the application form helps us to understand what you want to do.

It allows you to think about how your project could help to bring creativity and culture to people in England.

When is your project going to happen?

Tell us the start and end dates for your project.

Remember:

- To allow enough time to deliver all the stages of your project
- The dates you give us here should cover the whole project period you're applying for
- We need eight weeks to process applications for £30,000 and under, your start date must be more than eight weeks from the date you submit your application
- To allow enough time for us to make a payment before your start date, if your application is funded

Project start date: 02/10/2024

Project end date: 31/08/2025

Responding to any Time limited priorities

Your project is responding to the following Time limited priority:

Selected priority: - Not applying against any Time Limited Priority -

At a glance

In your own words, give a short, clear overview of your project:

Up to 500 characters

- Be as clear as you can about what you want to do using Project Grants funding
- It's better if this is written as a full paragraph
- It will be available to the public on our website if your application is funded.

Installation artist Bianca Hlywa sustains her creative career, & evolves her signature art practice; growing large-scale site-specific SCOBYs; creating her 'Mute Track' (MT) installation. MT will tour inter/national art galleries.

In conjunction with her exhibitions, Bianca will: collaborate with a BioTech journal to host The Ick Factor Symposium, engage CYP in an art response process (The National Saturday Club); & deliver wkshps & walk through tours of MT.

If you had to explain the focus of your project to someone, what single words or short phrase would you use?

Up to 100 characters

- You can be as broad or as specific as you like; it's your project
- You might think about this as your project's 'key words' or 'tags'
- Use a maximum of 5 key words or short phrases
- We won't use this response when deciding which applications to fund. It's so we can learn from how you see your project.
- Examples could be: singing; photography; digital work in libraries; South Asian dance; participatory arts; children's theatre; interactive gaming; dynamic collections work; changing business models; environmental theme; writing with older people; etc

SCOBY biomaterials; inter/national exhibitions & symposium; CYP/wkshps; science/art intersection

Our Strategy, Let's Create

Let's Create explains how we want our funding to make a difference. It includes three Outcomes. These Outcomes are what we want to achieve through the projects we fund, so together we can make a difference.

You don't need to read our Strategy to make an application for £30,000 and under.

Telling us what your project focuses on helps us to decide which of the Outcomes your project will make a difference towards.

What does your project mainly focus on?

- this gives us a good sense of how you see your project
- you need to select only one option
- your project may include activity to do with more than one option; we want to know where you feel the main focus is
- the descriptions below are a guide to help you decide
- don't worry if you're not sure – we'll check we agree with the option you've selected when we look at your application

My project is about the public taking part

My project is about the public taking part in creative activity, either during the project or in the future.

- This means a project that gives the public the opportunity to take an active part in creative activity.
- An active part might be making, learning or contributing to creating something.
- The public includes anyone who isn't working professionally in the cultural sector, and covers all ages from early years to older people.
- Examples could be delivering workshops to the public, the public participating in an event or teaching the public..
- People might be trying something for the first time, or developing their skills and experience.
- It could be that you're developing workshop content that you'll deliver to the public in the future.
- This isn't about the public attending an event as an audience member or visitor to an exhibition.

This matches our Outcome 1: Creative People

My project is about making a difference to a place or community

My project is about making a difference to a place or community, either during the project or in the future.

- This means working in a way that is focused on a specific place or community.
- Often working in a place will mean working with other partners in that place to shape and deliver a project.
- Projects could involve making, showing or performing work that responds to what a particular community is interested in.
- Examples could include a locally developed cultural festival, engaging the community in research and development for a new programme, work or event, or touring an exhibition with support from local partners.
- Projects might connect to or help to deliver existing local strategies or support local partnerships.
- It could also mean touring work into places where there is local demand. .

This matches our Outcome 2: Cultural Communities

My project is about developing professional creative or cultural practice

My project is about developing professional creative or cultural practice, either during the project or in the future.

X

- This means activity which makes a difference to an individual's, group's, or organisation's creative or cultural practice, or a difference to the wider cultural sector. Examples could be:
- Developing or showing new work or new ideas, including with partners from inside or outside the cultural sector
- Using new technologies to create or distribute work.
- Developing new skills to help those at the beginning of their careers or to help others sustain careers
- Bringing work, publications or collections from abroad to audiences in England.
- Developing international partnerships to do research or to create and present new work

This matches our Outcome 3: A Creative and Cultural Country

SCOBY is a 'Symbiotic Culture of Bacteria & Yeast' that feeds off of sugar & tea to grow, forming a thick microbial mat used as a biomaterial.

Bianca has grown large scale SCOBY for 8 years, incorporating them into various installations, videos & performances. She has established unique methods, partnerships & networks that sit at the intersection of art & science; culminating in the ecology that makes her new project possible.

The use of living processes in the creation of art is often overlooked or dismissed, not valued as other easy & marketable methods in sculptural & installation may be. Audiences typical respond to Bianca's work with simultaneous intrigue and repulsion (ie. 'ick factor')

Bianca's work:

- visibilises the artistic value of living process, SCOBY & biomaterials
- advocates for new imaginaries defined by engaging with living systems, biomaterials & the complexity of techniques that allow for this
- Diversifies commercial/commonplace mindsets about the definitions & purpose of art.

Bianca will:

- create an immersive installation with bespoke mechanisms/metal frames/panels which will support & spin 3 SCOBYs within a light installation; developing her solo exhibition tour; Mute Track (MT)
- tour the technology & grow site-specific SCOBYs for galleries in London, The Basque Country and Portugal; developing international connectivity
- collab with BC Materials/Biotech center (Basque Country); growing the SCOBY & conducting a formal study on it
- collab with a journal (Research Direction of Biotechnology Design; pub. in the Cambridge Uni press) to publish a question/open-call; gathering multi-disciplinary responses, in the form of academic essay writing, short form writing, images etc.
- select submissions for publication & presentation at 'The Ick Factor' Symposium; presented in collab with Calthorpe Community Garden Center; nurturing connectivity between otherwise highly isolated fields/disciplines & discussing issues relating to the use of biomaterials in science/arts
- lead a wkshp on growing a SCOBY & fermentation; both in-person at Sismógrafo (Portugal) & livestreamed as a legacy asset for international audiences
- guide tours of MT; with participants from Goldsmiths Masters of Art & Ecology, Conditions alt arts programme & the general public/guardianship residents
- collab with The National Saturday Club; engaging CYP in a wkshp response process, connected to MT & the symposium.

The project engages CYP via:

- wkshp 1: intro MT/Bianca's work
- guided tour of MT exhibition (St Chad's)
- wkshp 2: artistically respond to MT
- the symposium platforming their responses; rep. the voice of a future generation

Longitudinally, MT & the symposium will support Bianca to sustain her creative career; diversifying arts ecology sector & combatting elitist tropes embedded within academic arts spaces. Bianca advocates for redefinitions of art; using living processes to interrogate human aversions to all that is “Ick.”

What’s led you or your organisation to do this project now?

Up to 1500 characters

- What ideas or experiences have led you or your organisation to this point?
- Is this project helping you or your organisation learn or try new things?
- If you've done something similar before, how is this different?
- You can write this in full paragraphs or in bullet points

Bianca Hlywa (b.1992, Canada) is an interdisciplinary artist based in London, UK. She holds a BFA in Fine Art from Concordia University, Montreal, CA (2015) & an MFA in Fine Art from Goldsmiths, London (2019).

Bianca has developed unique methods for the growing of large scale SCOBYs; receiving Critics Pick for Ldn in Art Forum, (+ reviews Art Monthly & Flash Art) for her last (ACE funded) solo exhibition ‘Residual Yeast’; a 120cm x 3m lifting/rolling SCOBY. Bianca was recognised by ACE as an ‘Artist with Exceptional Promise’ for a UK visa, & later approved for ACE’s COVID emergency response funding to continue her practice; leading to the aforementioned exhibition.

Bianca has exhibited extensively at museums and galleries, & received awards & scholarships. Accolades inc (not limited to):

- Barbican Arts Group Trust exhibition
- the National Gallery of Art exhibition, Warsaw, POL (2024)
- the New Frontiers of Research award (2023)
- Canada Council for the Arts award (2022)
- the John J.A and Cecil Murphy Prize (2015)

MT & the Ick Factor Symposium now elevate Bianca’s work through:

- new international connectivity with galleries (Portugal, Spain/Basque Country)
- SCOBY research; exploring ways to strengthen it & collab with biotech centers/labs
- using adaptable sculptures for site-specific approaches
- increased ambition of installation: using 3 X SCOBY/structures & spotlights
- symposium; developing curation skills, & engaging CYP’s voices through wkshps

How will you know if you’ve achieved what you set out to do?

Up to 1500 characters

- Are there opportunities for learning and reflection during your project?
- How will you know what difference the project has made?
- What steps will you take to understand what people thought of the project?
- You can write this in full paragraphs or in bullet points

MT & the Symposium both bring active conversation to the use of biomaterials in the making of art, & explore the intersection of art & science; combatting elitist, damaging and/or limited thinking. Presentations at the symposium will introduce new work/perspectives, studies to strengthen SCOBY enable installation developments longitudinally, & intro new pedagogical approaches.

MT will track its project through the following KPIs:

- # MY visitors to each gallery, & how many agree that MT falls within 'art'
- diversity of visitors to MT per gallery
- # MT visitors that engage with the online resource/website
- # CYP via Sat Club that report a positive experience
- # CYP voices represented @ Symposium
- # participants at the Symposium, & diversity
- # Symposium participants reporting a shift in thinking as a result of the event
- # Symposium presenters reporting new career connections/opps as a result of presenting
- # new galleries/opps acquired as a result of this project
- # positive reviews in distinguished mag/journals

A stakeholder board will be comprised of project peers/partners; with regular meetings to assess the project's process, & a crit grp feedback session will be held w/ 4 artists.

Metrics will be gathered through:

- a comprehensive evaluation/impact reporting process
- QR code feedback form displayed publicly
- social media/website engagement metrics
- in person feedback
- written/verbal feedback from CYP, & partners before & after the project.

Inclusivity and Relevance

What steps are you taking to make your project inclusive and relevant?

Up to 3000 characters

Inclusivity

- How will you make sure the communities you want to reach are able to access your project, and feel included and welcomed?
- What things might stop people experiencing or accessing your project, and how will you address them?

Relevance

- How have you involved the people you want to reach in the design and planning of your project?
- What information or data do you have on the place or community your project involves? How have you used this to shape your project?

Bianca's art is highly conceptual, & typically limited to the elitist contemporary art world siloes. Bianca now takes steps to de-silo physical & educational accessibility; directly engaging:

- CYP/families
- low-income individuals
- marginalised artists

Increasing accessibility to learning/engagement, MT exhibitions will be displayed with a QR code, leading to a multi-entry-point learning resource; with fun facts about SCOBY & Bianca's artistic story, the 'Ick Factor' explained & reflective engagement questions. This resource will contextualise MT for those who are unsure of how to engage with the work; supporting individuals to experience MT with more depth, meaning & self reflection; without simply experiencing repulsion/rejection.

This project factors the needs of its target cohorts/marginalised communities by:

- making MT exhibitions & The Ick Factor Symposium entirely free of charge; combatting socio-economic barriers to participation
- actively engaging a cohort of 35 CYP (13-16) via the National Saturday Morning Club (NSMC); CYP are from lower income backgrounds & include a diverse range of communities
- ensuring safeguarding of CYP through wkshps & tour (triaged by NSMC); all partners DBS checked
- platforming CYP responses & art at The Ick Factor Symposium; spotlighting the next generation's voices when discussing "high level" questions about science/art
- extending travel bursaries for low income households; via Garden Centre social networks
- livestreaming the Symposium; combatting geographic boundaries to participation
- ensuring wheelchair access in majority of venues & hiring the garden cabin at Calthorpe; with outdoor canopy seats
- hosting the Symposium at Calthorpe Community Garden Centre; created by/for the community

'Research Direction of Biotechnology Design' is a journal published in the Cambridge uni press by Professor Martyn-Dade-Robertson; publishing content related to design/science/art. The selection process for The Ick Factor Symposium will be held with Martyn & the project's stakeholder board; with a selection criteria designed by the board:

- ensuring equity; barriers to participation are removed (selection process is entirely free & open to all)
- observing applicants' alignment to the Qs & quality of response
- intentionally selecting 2 marginalised artists; 2 general open-call responses, 2 pre-selected responses, 2 Basque Country responses (embedded in project), alongside Bianca & Martyn; starting/sustaining creative careers

As a woman in contemp art, creating alt large-scale installations, Bianca has had to work harder to receive industry recognition & a place for her work. This project supports her to sustain her creative career: pioneering new SCOBY growth/presentation methods thru research studies; dev new audiences/accessibility pathways, elevating the size, quality & reach of her installations, & forging her own artistic legacy & personally upskill through The Ick Factor Symposium & MT.

Your planning

You've told us what you want to do and what you hope to achieve. We now need to understand how this will come together to be successfully delivered.

We need to know:

- Your project plan – what you're going to do and when
- Your plans for managing the project – you don't need to have managed a project before, but you need to show you've thought about what you'll do or who will support you
- Who you'll work with and how they'll contribute
- What your budget is and how you've worked it out, including paying everyone fairly
- How you will respond to challenges you might encounter

Project timeline

Project Start Date: 02/10/2024

Project End Date: 31/08/2025

You've told us the start and end date of your project. We need to know what will happen during your project. Creating a timeline shows the key tasks that your project is made up of.

We understand that plans can change over the life of a project, but we need to see that you have a plan in place to deliver your project.

To create the table, click the 'Add new item' icon on the left of the screen to add a project stage. To add more than one stage, use the 'Save and Add another' button.

The table at the bottom of the page will populate with the information you enter about the stages of your project.

Managing your project

What experience do you have of managing a project?

I have managed projects like this before

Who will be working with you to deliver your project

For example this might be:

- A team of people (tell us who they are, and about their role and skills:...)
- A particular artist, practitioner or group (tell us: ...)
- A particular specialist(s) (tell us: ...)
- Other organisation(s) as collaborators, coproducers etc (tell us...)
- Other organisation(s) helping you to manage the project (tell us...)

How will they help you to deliver your project?

Up to 1500 characters

- What skills will they bring?
- If some people's involvement isn't confirmed yet, do you know what you'll do if they can't be involved?

Bianca takes her work to new levels; co-designing innovative mechanisms for the display of MT/large-scale SCOBY.

- She will work with:
- Andrew Dixon; a systems engineer, to design & fabricate parts of the mechanism inc programming
 - Robert Mcleod for the metal structure's fabrication
 - Labs @ Basque BioDesign Center (will grow the SCOBY)
 - BC Materials (a research centre @ Basque Country Uni); testing & strengthening the structure of SCOBY.

Both labs have an expertise to contribute to MT & Bianca's artistic practise.

MT will tour:

-St Chad's (Ldn); run by artist Benjamin Orlow who curates exhibitions from both emerging & established artists. A recent review in Flash Art, described St Chad's as unique, astounding, risk-taking, experimental & non-pretentious.

-Sismógrafo Gallery (Portugal); internationally renowned gallery run for 10 yrs by a collective of artists, the centre is large scale & renovated to white-cube standards. With street facing windows to central Porto, there is a consistent stream of local visitors to the gallery, as well as arts professionals.

Risks and challenges

There are risk and challenges to any project. Our funding can support you to take more risks than you might normally be able to. It may allow you to try new creative or cultural ideas, despite the unknowns and the possible financial or reputational risks.

Taking creative or cultural risk is important because it means that creativity and culture are always growing and changing.

It's important that you've thought about what the risks or challenges are. If they happen, you're then able to manage them and still deliver your project successfully.

If you want to understand more about risk, including the different types of risk, you can have a look at our Practitioners guide to identifying and managing risk information sheet.

What are the main risks and challenges to your project meeting its aims?

Up to 2000 characters

- What could go wrong?
- What might happen differently?

Risk 1: lack of understanding/context for the value of SCOBY; & / rejection of Bianca's installations as "legitimate" art, leading to a lack of response/turnout. Low attendance at the Symposium & / MT exhibitions.

R2: expense & logistics of growing SCOBY; Bianca's installations are made from biomaterials (living material) and require specific "man-made" techniques to feed/grow them. SCOBY growth of this size isn't found in any natural world settings. It is possible that the SCOBYs won't grow properly, or in the way that Bianca expects.

R3: MT's SCOBYs will be presented on spinning mechanisms. There are logistical/practical risks with this; such that the mechanism doesn't work, or can't withstand extended periods of installation use.

R4: language barriers: with several international components/venues/partners in a project that is intellectually/scientifically complex, there may be moments of miscommunication or language barriers.

R5: education programme not effectively engaging CYP & lacking impact.

R6: low submissions from marginalised artists for the symposium; artists don't see their work/voices represented in the Symposium themes.

What will you do to manage these risks?

Up to 2000 characters

- What plans have you put in place?
- Have these actions worked before?

Mitigation 1: the multi-entry-point digital learning resource (displayed at MT via QR code) will support audiences to understand the value of SCOBY, & understand what they are interacting with. It will offer fun facts & stories to contextualise the work, & questions to support their own reflection process.

M2: Bianca has worked extensively with SCOBY for 8 years; developing robust & reliable methods for the successful application of her artistic medium. Whilst MT elevates the scale & breath of SCOBY growing in Bianca’s work, her expertise in this area safeguards the process.

M3: Bianca is working in collaboration with metalwork experts, & together they will conduct several testing processes prior to the MT tours; ensuring time to replace parts or make any necessary adjustments. Additionally, a technical back up plan is embedded into the project plan; in the case that the spinning contraption fails, there is another effective way to present the SCOBY.

M4: the galleries that are engaging MT are all multi-lingual, with English as a common second language. Whilst the intense response that SCOBY evokes is beyond language, & Bianca’s work can translate across cultures; she will provide show notes & translations of the multi-entry-point digital learning resource; in partnership with translators at the Art Galleries in Portugal & Spain.

M5: Bianca’s education programme will be discussed with the teacher of the Art & Design class at the National Saturday Morning Club, ensuring that content is accessible & suited to their CYP cohort.

M6: Bianca will actively work with triage partners to reach marginalised artists, & embed inclusive language in the open call brief.

About you / your organisation

We use all of this information in an anonymised way to help us see a clear picture of who we are supporting through Project Grants, and how this might need to change to ensure that, over time, the grants we make reflect the diversity of contemporary England.

We also use some of the information to help us make funding decisions.

Sometimes we prioritise supporting people and organisations who share characteristics that are underrepresented in recipients or beneficiaries of National Lottery Project Grants funding, so it helps us to know the characteristics of the individual or the organisation applying.

We believe that the creativity of each of us should be valued and given the chance to flourish, and every one of us should have access to a remarkable range of high-quality cultural experiences.

Equitable access to arts and culture funding is an important part of this. We believe the spread of who and what we invest in should reflect the makeup of the wider country we live in.

This is about us delivering on our Equality Objective:

We will ensure a more equitable distribution of our investment to improve opportunities for everyone, especially those with under-represented protected characteristics and from disadvantaged socio-economic groups.

We know from our data that Black, Asian and ethnically diverse people and disabled people are underrepresented as recipients and beneficiaries of National Lottery Project Grants funding. If you choose to tell us, information about your ethnicity and whether you identify as a disabled person may be used as part of our decision-making process. (If you're applying as an organisation, we'll use the information you give us about the characteristics of your organisation's board and/or senior management.) We will use this information combined with information about who your project will work with, and all the other information you give us about your project.

We will never share this information with others, except in an anonymised way.

If you're not comfortable sharing any of this information with us for this purpose, you can select 'Prefer not to say'.

Monitoring information

We use the information in this section to report how we have spent our funding from the National Lottery.

In this section, you must answer all the questions. If you prefer not to provide some of the information, you can tick the 'Prefer not to answer' box. We may use this information to report to the Government or to monitor the different backgrounds of people who receive grants.

The installation Thermaloop lifted a 3 meter, 200 kilo SCOBY out of its tank and the around a drum using a tall standing custom-made mechanism.

My practice is based on the use of SCOBY (Symbiotic Culture Of Bacterial Yeast). SCOBY grows first as a skin on the air-liquid interface of the fermenting tea Kombucha. Matching the shape of the vessel it grows in, and getting thicker over time, SCOBY turns into a gelatinous, beige, juicy, smelly and thick mat that resembles flesh. My work often begins by growing the bacterial yeast to a very large size using built tanks and hundreds of litres of sweet black tea.

Although fungi, bacteria, yeast and microbial life in general are omnipresent in our bodies and/or the environment, they are often invisible, so when grown to such an enormous size they are unfamiliar. The work challenges the ability to categorise, practicing an interrogative intimacy with a questionably repulsive and non-human 'other'.

Image top left: MR.BIG involved growing SCOBY over two months in VERTICALE artist run centre's storage unit. After which a scientist opened a performance with a speech on bacterial cellulose. The performance involved emptying the tank and moving the SCOBY to Bizard Island where it was fed to a flock of mature chickens. All events were live-streamed.

The SYMBIOSIS performance involved moving a SCOBY to a fork lift which raised it. The performance was made with support from curators of the event, KOCIDO collective.

The installation Figures of Amplification lifted the corner of a SCOBY upwards in a looped action.

The solo exhibition 'Mute Track' will feature an installation with kinetically moving SCOBYS. The movement will be circular, with large microbial slabs (182 x 120cm) being whipped around through a rotating mechanised system installed in the ceiling.

The SCOBYS would periodically hit partial glass walls positioned around them, leaving brown stains. Changing parameters of each SCOBYS's movement (speed/starting/stopping) would coordinate at times with each other and with the lights of the exhibition (fading, turning on and off), both in tempo to a song not actually played. As the exhibition continues, the SCOBYS would be physically strained, and over time become more dry and leather-like.

Looped, circular motion has been consistent in my practice for the last ten years in different films and installations (see Bird of the Judaeen Mountains or Image of the Tide). It has symbolized a cyclical repetition which is omnipresent in life. At once cycles and loops are natural, cosmological, existential, meditative and sedative. They are also used within capitalism, reducing systems complexity to focus on gaining capital, like in the production line. Accordingly, the motion in the installation is conceptualized as being located somewhere between freedom and industrial command.
